ABSTRACT

@necrofille

Natascha Simard

@necrofille is an experiment in Poe's Law, an internet adage which states online satire is indistinguishable from earnest extremism. Poems from this project will be posted on various social media apps under the username necrofille in order to investigate whether readers interpret them as confessionalism or satire. Hyperbolic and hypocritical, necrofille exemplifies a certain feminist subjectivity known online as the social justice warrior. Employing an SJW speaker, these poems expose the hostile rhetoric and faulty logic of online social justice. @necrofille is archived on www.necrofille.com and encompasses various genres of poetry, including free verse, narrative, prose, procedural, erasure, collage, concrete, video, and interactive. Social media readers who click through to the @necrofille website encounter necrofille's desk, littered with personal objects. The reader is encouraged to inhabit necrofille's physical and mental space by unlocking the iphone and filtering its content through necro's perspective.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to professors Stephanie Bolster, Nathan Brown and to my supervisor Sina Queyras, for their academic counsel and emotional support.

I must also thank the large number of freeware creators whose assets facilitated this work. Thank you Pizzadude, Matt Bruinooge, Anke-Art, Hanoded, bythebutterfly, KC Fonts, punksafetypin, Clara C, and Michairu.

Finally, I thank my partner Marc. Without his technical expertise and careful guidance the digital aspects of this project could not have been realized.

The Scarlet Letter

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE INTRODUCTORY TO "THE SCARLET LETTER"

~~It is a little remarkable, that—though disinclined to talk overmuch of myself and my affairs at the fireside, and to my personal friends—an autobiographical impulse should twice in my life have taken possession of me, in addressing the public. The first time was three or four years since, when I favoured the reader—inexcusably, and for no earthly reason that either the indulgent reader or the intrusive author could imagine—with a description of my way of life in the deep quietude of an Old Manse. And now—because, beyond my deserts, I was happy enough to find a listener or two on the former occasion—I again seize the public by the button, and talk of my three years' experience in a Custom-House. The example of the famous 'P. P., Clerk of this Parish,' was never more faithfully followed. The truth seems to be, however, that when he casts his leaves forth upon the wind, the author addresses, not the many who will fling aside his volume, or never take it up, but the few who will understand him better than most of his schoolmates or lifemates. Some~~

~~virtues. Hester Prynne, nevertheless, the loving mother of this one child, ran little risk of erring on the side of undue severity. Mindful, however, of her own errors and misfortunes, she early sought to impose a tender but strict control over the infant immortality that was committed to her charge. But the task was beyond her skill: after testing both smiles and frowns, and proving that neither mode of treatment possessed any calculable influence, Hester was ultimately compelled to stand aside and permit the child to be swayed by her own impulses. Physical compulsion or restraint was effectual, of course, while it lasted. As to any other kind of discipline, whether addressed to her mind or heart, little Pearl might or might not be within its reach, in accordance with the caprice that ruled the moment. Her mother, while Pearl was yet an infant, grew acquainted with a certain peculiar look, that warned her when it would be labour thrown away to insist, persuade or plead.~~

~~It was a look so intelligent, yet inexplicable, perverse, sometimes so malicious, but generally accompanied by a wild flow of spirits, that Hester could not help questioning at such moments whether Pearl was a human child. She seemed rather an airy sprite, which, after playing its fantastic sports for a little while upon the cottage floor—~~

RE: Christmas is coming!

Hey Sweetie,

Missed your help decorating our tree.

Warm wishes.

Love,

Mum

hi mom,

i have 2 say, im a little disappointed. as u kno, i dont celebrate xmas. assuming i would want ur "warm wishes" goes 2 show ur xtrem christian privilege.

u dont even get how offensive it is 2 appropriate pagan solstice traditions!

Oh, don't be such a Grinch! Where's your Christmas spirit?

Love,

Mum

kinda hrd 2 have xmas spirit when im forced 2 spend time w family thats abusive.

Cate,

Family holidays have become a bit strained since your father and I separated, but we both still try to fill Christmas time with peace, love, and happiness.

Yet sure enough, come Christmas day, you make everybody miserable. Your behaviour in the past few years has been completely unacceptable. Last year we were invited to Dale's family turkey dinner. You subjected the entire table to an animal cruelty lecture.

Dale's mother made her pie crust with Crisco, just for you! but you skipped dessert, stained my favourite shirt, and stabbed Dale with a corkscrew! The year before that, well it wasn't any better. Remember when you "accidentally" lit Dale's Frosty tie on fire?

We couldn't visit this year because Dale works Christmas Eve, but I'd be lying if I didn't admit I'm a little bit relieved.

I have only one wish this Christmas and it's that you are happy.

Please Cate, behave. Listen to Daddy.

Love,

Mum

merry xmas, bitch

i didnt even want u n stupid dale 2 come visit. just stuck here w dr. dad who works all the fking time. fking pregos can't hold it in long enough 2 sing silent night. so yeah, i'm on the couch watching home alone all by myself, haha. already made it through jack frost, rudolph, and elf. got triggered by will ferrell's elfdick in those gross yellow tights. and when buddy's dad kicked him out of his office, i swear i fucking cried. u kno, i luv u mum. i hate it when we fight. i wish u came 4 xmas. xmas at dad's just isnt right. the way i acted in the past was so so stupid. im rly rly sry. how is dale doin?

American Pie

Gabrielle, man she's so hot.
The nicest, coolest, such a perfect...
Bitch!
She's taken anything she wants.
What about my moment here?
How the hell am I supposed to become the lucky girl?
People in school don't know me.
I mean, I have no chance.
I'm just that geek over there.
And it really bothers me when people try to pigeonhole me like that.
I know it's a long shot, but I need to change.
I've had enough.
I am so sick and tired of all this bullshit,
but I think I know how to get myself this sudden reputation.
Now I'm gonna go hang out with cool people
acting like I've got everything together.
Just relax. This is a foolproof plan.
I am flawed and vulnerable, but I want to change the future.
At the end of the year, I will defeat the competition for Miss American Pie.
Confidence is high.
Excuse me everyone, I feel like I've already won.

Figure 22. "American Pie" is a video poem made up of spliced together clips from the 1999 movie of the same name.

Vote Ash for Miss American Pie

konnichi wa!

hey folks, it's ash-san.

so posters for prom are going up around school and...

k i don't even want to get into how like american-centric the theme is not to mention american pie is basically a movie about nerd boy rapists so yeah... how is that appropriate?

but anywayyy

the real reason i'm making this video is because i want your vote.

every prom queen in our beloved history has been a skinny blonde cis-barbie.

barbies are pretty much the embodiment of heteronormative, cissexist, white supremacist beauty standards,

which idealize unattainable body types and european facial features.

basically, when you vote for a barbie you're voting for the patriarchy.

so instead...

vote for me! i'm queer, non-binary, and transjapanese!

oooo kawaii

i know other candidates might have better grades and are on the volleyball team and are just like more friendly,

but that's just because they're all neurotypical.

i'm autistic, which makes it really hard for me to interact socially and pay attention in class.

so, if you don't vote for ash then you're an ableist, not to mention cis-sexist and just not a good feminist.

so vote for me!

together we can smash the patriarchy!

#decapitate the barbies

anonymous asked:

do you like ebing spanked?

anonymous asked:

fuck you mother fucking slut bitch female ass hoe cunt show me your tits

anonymous asked:

i'm going to climb through your bedroom window and smother you with a pillow then i'll take off your clothes and lick your pussy real slow mmm baby

anonymous asked:

I will dox you if you don't remove that video and this blog permanently. You have 24 hours.

anonymous asked:

I HOPE YOU GET RAPED YOU FEMINIST WHORE

anonymous asked:

In your video you are wearing odango. That is cultural appropriation. YOU HAVE WHITE PRIVILEGE! Fucking racist.

Pieces

say something good morning
good morning
tick
tock
huh?
come to my house
i have to go home
not a man
what i saw tick tock
look watch
tick
tock
i don't know what my body is let's make it all possible
our bodies are just temporary become what you want to be it's gone now
do you feel better?
i'm happy, but i think i might want a penis
i support you pieces belong to no one let go of them

Psychomachiagender-

a gender which fluctuates in relation to one's struggle between good and evil. from the greek psykho, meaning "spirit" and máchi meaning "battle."

i coined the term psychomachiagender 2 describe my experience w multiple systems n how it affects my gender identification.

i'm nova, the host of our system. i'm half demonkin half jesuskin. my pronouns are they/their/them.

my demon headmate is a hellcat named sake. when satan closed the gates of hell, sake was in salem stealing breast milk. so sake strayed around massachusetts killing men in the service of witches. sake's been with me since b4 i was 1. sake prefers purr pronouns when purr fronts.

lately i've come 2 realize that in a past life i died 4 mankind. my newest headmate is jesus christ. i awakened 2 my jesuskinship when i had a flashback 2 my crucifixion, brought on by a traumatic experience. god's only son is called my lord when my lord fronts.

u kno when cartoons have 2 choose between good n evil? how there'll be like this tiny little angel n tiny little devil? that's what i feel like all the time. jesus n sake always fight in my mind. b4 that it was simple. got all my advice from an anarchist symbol. but since the lamb of god's set up shop in my head. do i rebel or follow instead?

i made this psychomachiagender flag. the black represents sake's fur n dark purpose. the white represents christ's virtue n innocence. the olive green represents me stuck in the middle keeping the peace.

10 STEPS: to being accepted

1. first, Ask yourself: Do I want to belong?
2. if yes, Focus on SELF-IMPROVEment. Don't act helpless. Don't make up excuses.
3. allow the world to be what it is. Let go of bitterness. Do not be argumentative.
4. Play by the rules. This does not mean giving up your values
 - a. go to school
 - b. get good grades
 - c. don't Do drugs
 - d. LISTEN
 - e. behave,
5. be social, Expand your friend circle. build new relationship, Be open to every clique
6. Appear Confident.
 - a. keep your voice steady,
 - b. breathe and out slowly
 - c. make eye contact
 - d. SMILE
 - e. laugh.
7. Don't have a fixed idea of how others should act. Don't make sweeping GENERALIZATIONS
8. assume Everyone have GOOD intentions.
9. Look for how the other person's actions make sense given their history and current situation, even if you don't Agree WITH them.
10. GIVE ACCEPTANCE TO GET accepted.

guru

Hi everyone, it's Nova here with a dialectical makeup tutorial.
In this video, you'll learn to apply the dialectical method to your physical appearance.
A dialectic is a discourse between opposite perspectives.
So we'll pit our highlighter against our contour and blend them into a synthesis!
If you're looking to say goodbye to black and white thinking just keep watching.

I've moisturized and primed my face prior to filming.
Now I'm taking my Too Faced Born This Way foundation in Ivory and lightly applying it to my skin with my beauty blender Next I'm gonna set this with a translucent powder and exaggerate the highpoints of my face with a highlighter

For this look, I'm using Kat Von D's Shade and Light palette.
This product is perfect for the dialectical makeup method.
I'm carving out the hollows of my face to exaggerate my cheekbones.
I'm also contouring along my jawline and temple.

To make this look dialectical I'm blending my contour and highlighter into one another, just like when we consider two opposite points of view to find a deeper truth Blending out any harsh edges, this synthesis creates a more beautiful face.

Now I'm priming my eyes and going in with the Kat Von D Shade and Light Eye palette using the colour Liberatus.
This is a matte white that is going to highlight the inner corner of our eye.
Next I'm taking the colour Shax which is a matte black and I'm deepening my crease.
To bring out the dimensions of my eye, I'm contrasting dark and light shades.
But to make this look dialectical its essential I blend these two opposites
I'm using the colour Lazarus.
Lazurus is a lovely grey shade,
It's a happy medium between two extremes.
With all the harsh edges blended, our highlight and contour have come to a synthesis.
The colours are in a smooth gradation and our eyes have lots of dimension!

Our look is complete!
And we've done away with our extreme beliefs.
Remember: dialectical is beautiful!
On your face, and in your mind, things should never be black and white.
